Site Description Summary

The former Piper Aircraft Corporation has changed its name and in the process reinvented itself.

The facility manufactures small commuter and business airplanes at its eight acre property.

Current sales reach $68 million annually with 1,200 employees working at the location (American Business Information).

Piper continues to operate the onsite groundwater pump & treat system for VOC's (see photos below), and reports that contaminants are steadily decreasing. They have also initiated the Five-Year Review process for the Site.
